The Media-convert is great page! But it is slow :( My suggestion is to do Media-Convert in application for Windows.

If I do mistakes in English - sorry, I can't speak English very well, because I'm from Poland.

I don't think this is a very good suggestion as it kind of destroys the whole idea behind having the conversion on a website. You will have the conversion anywhere where there is the internet and besides that the slogan of the website is: "100% Free online file conversion no installation, no virus and spywares", which to me suggests that they are offering an ALTERNATIVE to having windows applications and tools.
